

OUR PARENT CURRICULA

FIS develops and implements culturally-relevant parent curricular programs, designed to engage families in the education of their children. The programs are focused on critical issues that all parents should know in order to support learning and advocate for their children's needs, ranging from quality early education, family literacy to college awareness and preparation. FIS can train staff on how to deliver the curricula or one of our certified facilitators can deliver the workshops at the site.

AWARENESS CAMPAIGNS

Not reading at grade-level, missing opportunities to learn during the summer, and missing school are ways in which students fall behind and struggle academically. FIS implements awareness campaigns that include easy-to-use tools, resources, and trainings, to families, schools and community organizations in Los Angeles County to inform and engage them in family literacy, summer learning, and school attendance.

STAFF PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT & CAPACITY BUILDING

FIS provides professional development and capacity building to schools and community organizations on how to authentically partner with parents. FIS offers professional development institutes on three core areas: Parent Engagement Strategies, Welcoming Environment, and Outreach Recruitment and Retention. FIS also offers coaching, webinars, tailored technical assistance and manages professional learning networks to help school staff develop their knowledge, skills, and dispositions on how to authentically work with families.

ADVOCACY

FIS leads and participates in advocacy campaigns that aim to ensure high quality learning environments for all children, increase options for parents, and strengthen family, community, school partnerships. In addition, FIS publishes policy recommendations and supports leadership development of parent leaders.
